

How do I create a Curation?

Last Modified on 08/20/2025 1:00 pm EDT

This article explains how to create a new Curation in Big Think+.

Creating a Curation allows you to build a custom learning experience by grouping relevant Big Think+ content into a single, shareable list. Whether you're designing a leadership series or bookmarking content for future viewing, Curations give you the flexibility to shape learning on your terms.

Everyone has a "Watch Later" Curation built in for their own use. This is a private Curation.

Option 1: Create a Curation and then add content

Step 1: Start a new Curation

1. Navigate to the Curations page from the main navigation bar.
2. Click the Create new button on the top right.
3. Give your Curation a title and description that clearly explains its purpose.

Search

Edit Curation

Name your curation
Give your curation a description
Duration: less than 1 second

Copy link  Publish

+ Add

Step 2: Add content

Once you've created your Curation, you can start adding content:

1. Click + Add within your new Curation or type directly into the Search bar at the top of the page to search for content.

Edit Curation

Name your curation

Give your curation a description

Duration: less than 1 second

+ Add

Click the + icon on any content tile across Big Think+ to add it to a Curation.

Search for more content

2. Once you have located content to add, click on the + icon to add it to a Curation.

Lesson

00:05:37

THE TEAM LEADER'S GUIDE TO LEADERSHIP AND M...
How Not to Go Wrong with Hiring
Suzy Welch
Professor of Management Practice, NYU Stern School of Business

3. In the pop-up window, you can select the correct Curation from the list under Your Curations.

Add To Curations

New Curation

Enter

Your Curations

☒ Hiring

☐ Watch Later

Done

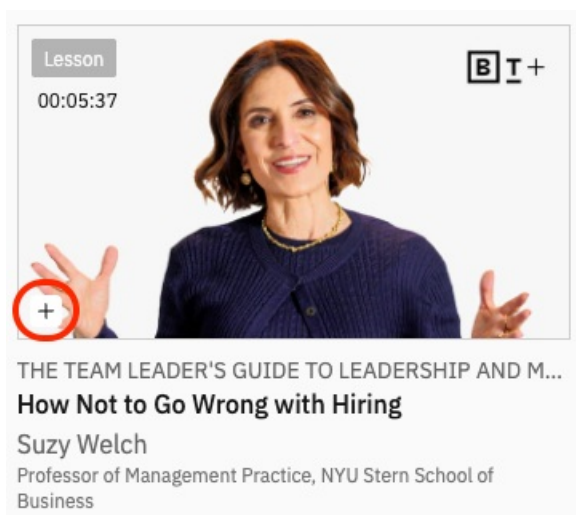

Watch a how-to video for creating a curation

Your browser does not support HTML5 video.

Option 2: Create a Curation using 'Add to Curations'

While browsing Big Think+, you may discover content that you want to save or share. You can create a new Curation on the spot and then adjust its properties afterward.

To do so, click the + icon on any piece of content on Big Think+.

When the Add to Curations pop-up appears, enter the name of a New Curation in the first field and click Enter.

Add To Curations

Enter

Your Curations

☒ New curation title

☐ Watch Later

View →

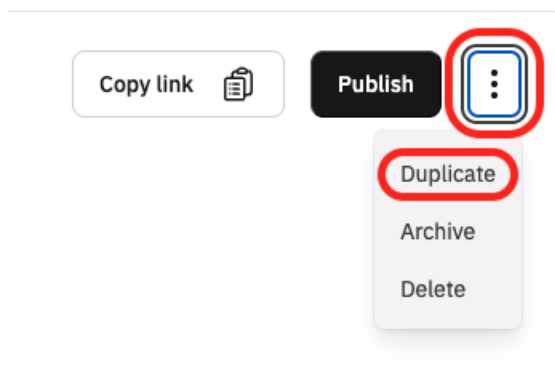

Done

Once added, you can click the View -> button to view and edit the title, description, and organization of the newly created Curation.

Option 3: Create a Curation by duplicating and editing a Curation

Repurposing a strong Curation can save time and amplify impact. You can duplicate an existing Curation so you can edit and customize it for different audiences, roles, teams, regions, or skill levels.

To make a copy of a Curation, click on the more options dropdown at the upper right, and select Duplicate.

A copy of the Curation will be created. Note that the Curation title and any Section titles will begin with "Copy Of". To edit, click on the fields and type or paste in your changes. You can now add, remove, or reorder any of the content or Sections in your new Curation.

Watch a how-to video for duplicating a curation

Your browser does not support HTML5 video.

What's next?

You can add as much content as you like and mix different formats (lessons, classes, courses, etc.) within one Curation.

Once you've added content, your Curation is saved automatically. You can continue building it now or come back later to organize it into sections, rearrange content, or prepare it for sharing.
